

Halal Statement

At Dad's Pies, we believe pies bring us together. And we want to make pies that satisfy all sorts of appetites and taste buds.

Our lifelong pursuit of pie-fection starts with real, top-notch ingredients – the kind that can warm your cockles, put hair on your chest, or just keep you going till lunchtime. And we're proud to share exactly what goes into our pies.

We are self-proclaimed Halal as our premium ingredients, including high-quality NZ beef, lamb and chicken are sourced from Halal approved suppliers, and are processed according to Halal practices. We do have bacon products on the premises, but these are kept separate from Halal products within the factory to avoid any cross-contamination.

So if you still have a hankering for scrumptious pies with Halal ingredients, don't worry. They won't be going anywhere. Except in your tum.
